

I disagree with the powerful NAB in their attempts to stifle satellite radio's broadcast of national weather and traffic. I travel from city to city and am used to receiving the weather in that city without having to search through all the local stations to find one that is giving the weather.